

Terms of Use

Last Updated: October 19, 2026

Effective Date: October 19, 2026

Business Brand: AutoConversion.ai

Operated by: Jing Wang Trust

Governing Law: South Carolina

Website: <https://autoconversion.ai>

These Terms of Use ("Terms") govern access to and use of the AutoConversion.ai website, public educational materials, resources, contact forms, and related digital services. AutoConversion.ai is a business brand operated by Jing Wang Trust ("AutoConversion.ai," "we," "us," or "our").

By accessing or using the website, you agree to these Terms to the extent enforceable under applicable law. If you disagree, please do not use the website. These website Terms do not replace any separate signed services agreement or First Truck guest release.

1. Nature of Our Services

AutoConversion.ai assists businesses with practical AI implementation, customer inquiry and follow-up processes, CRM operations, business workflows, technology recommendations, automation, staff enablement, and related advisory or implementation services.

Services described on our website are illustrative and do not constitute a binding commitment to perform a particular project, deliver specific functions, meet particular timelines, or charge any stated fee unless separately agreed.

2. No Automatic Client Relationship

Visiting the website, requesting information, scheduling a call, receiving public resources, or participating in a preliminary discussion does not create a consulting engagement, fiduciary relationship, partnership, joint venture, employment or agency relationship, or an obligation to provide services. Paid or continuing work should be governed by a separate written agreement.

3. Informational Content, Not Professional Advice

Website materials, interviews, research, AI explanations, and business frameworks are provided for general educational and informational purposes. They do not constitute individualized legal, tax, financial, accounting, cybersecurity, or regulatory advice.

You should consult qualified professionals before decisions involving significant legal, financial, safety, data protection, or regulated-business consequences.

4. AI and Technology Limitations

AI models, software platforms, analytics, integrations, and workflow automations can produce errors, omissions, delays, inconsistent outputs, outages, security risks, or unexpected behavior. Appropriate human review and testing remain essential.

Unless a specific written agreement states otherwise, we do not guarantee increased revenue, more leads, a particular conversion rate, cost reduction, savings, business valuation, uninterrupted operation, error-free AI outputs, or compliance with particular laws or industry standards.

Testimonials, examples, scenarios, and case studies are illustrative. Results depend on factors outside our control and do not guarantee similar results for another business.

5. Client Ownership and Operational Responsibility

We prefer solutions that preserve client ownership and practical control over business accounts, systems, software licenses, customer information, vendor relationships, and operating decisions.

Clients generally retain responsibility for selecting and approving vendors, securing their systems, obtaining appropriate customer permissions, supervising staff, monitoring results, and making business decisions. Our own responsibilities are determined by law and any applicable written engagement agreement.

6. Access to Client Systems

Where authorized under a signed engagement, a client may provide access to a CRM, cloud environment, email, automation system, communication platform, AI account, or related resource.

Access should be limited to the agreed work and appropriate permissions. We recommend separate user accounts, multifactor authentication, role-based access, audit logs, and revocation of unnecessary permissions when an engagement ends.

Detailed responsibilities regarding confidentiality, support, data handling, security, credentials, and access should be covered by the engagement agreement.

7. First Truck Interview Series

First Truck is an interview and educational media series featuring business owners and professionals. Interview invitations are voluntary and do not obligate either party to record or publish an episode.

Guest selection, scheduling, recording arrangements, editing, publication, use of guest names and likenesses, and promotional excerpts may be subject to a separate written guest participation and media release. A preliminary call or interview request alone does not give us unrestricted rights to publicize the guest's voice, image, or materials.

Guests' statements and opinions are their own and do not necessarily represent our views. We reserve editorial discretion subject to applicable agreements and law.

8. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise indicated, original website text, branding, layouts, graphics, business frameworks, and other protected materials are owned by or licensed to Jing Wang Trust for use with AutoConversion.ai. They are protected by applicable intellectual property laws.

You may access and use publicly available website materials for lawful personal or internal business evaluation. You may not copy, commercially distribute, resell, misrepresent ownership of, or otherwise exploit protected content without appropriate permission, except to the extent permitted by law.

Third-party product names, marks, images, and materials remain the property of their respective owners.

9. User Submissions

By submitting information or materials to us, you represent that you have the right to do so and that your submission does not unlawfully infringe others' rights. Do not submit malicious code, unlawful content, confidential customer records, passwords, or sensitive information through general inquiry channels.

Submission does not automatically transfer ownership of your intellectual property. Any specific permission to use interview content, photographs, endorsements, case studies, or testimonial materials should be documented separately when appropriate.

10. Acceptable Use

You agree not to misuse the website through unlawful access, fraud, malicious code, security interference, deceptive impersonation, abusive communications, intellectual property infringement, or prohibited extraction of protected information.

We may restrict access or take other reasonable steps to address misuse, consistent with applicable law.

11. Third-Party Products and Links

The website may reference or connect to CRM systems, AI platforms, communication providers, hosting services, calendars, analytics software, and other third-party services. Their availability, pricing, security, data practices, licensing, and contractual terms are generally controlled by the relevant providers.

We do not warrant the performance or continued availability of unaffiliated third-party services. We may receive referral or affiliate compensation for certain recommendations, with disclosures where required by law.

12. Privacy and Communications

Our collection and handling of personal information are described in our Privacy Policy. Specific forms, newsletter subscriptions, recordings, or marketing activities may provide additional notices and choices.

Use of the website does not automatically constitute consent to automated promotional calls or texts.

13. Website Disclaimer of Warranties

The public website and its informational content are provided "as is" and "as available." To the fullest extent permitted by law, we disclaim warranties regarding accuracy, suitability, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, noninfringement, or uninterrupted availability.

Nothing here excludes rights or warranties that cannot lawfully be disclaimed. Any specific warranties for paid services are governed by the separate signed agreement.

14. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Jing Wang Trust and its authorized representatives, personnel, and service providers will not be liable for indirect, incidental, consequential, special, exemplary, punitive, or lost-profit damages arising solely from use of the public website, reliance on its general information, or these Terms.

To the extent permitted by law, our aggregate liability for claims arising solely from the public website or these Terms will not exceed the greater of (a) $100 USD or (b) the amount you paid directly to us for the specific website-based material giving rise to the claim.

These limitations do not replace terms negotiated in a separate signed engagement agreement and do not exclude liability that cannot lawfully be limited, including where applicable for fraud or intentional misconduct.

15. Indemnification

To the extent permitted by law, you agree to indemnify and hold harmless Jing Wang Trust and its authorized representatives, personnel, and service providers against third-party claims, reasonable costs, and damages resulting from your unlawful misuse of the website, violation of enforceable Terms, or infringement of third-party rights.

This provision does not shift liability for conduct that applicable law requires us to bear ourselves.

16. Paid Services and Separate Agreements

Paid consulting, advisory, implementation, support, training, or other services may require a signed proposal, statement of work, master services agreement, or other written contract.

That agreement will control scope, pricing, project obligations, confidentiality, ownership, security, performance, support, liability, and any dispute-specific provisions for the contracted services. Where a signed agreement conflicts with these website Terms as to an engagement, that agreement controls.

17. Governing Law and Venue

These Terms are governed by South Carolina law without regard to conflict-of-law principles, except where nonwaivable law requires otherwise.

Subject to mandatory applicable law and any separate signed agreement, disputes concerning these website Terms will be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in South Carolina. This provision does not waive nonwaivable consumer or statutory jurisdictional protections.

18. Updates to Terms

We may update these Terms as our website, services, and applicable legal requirements change. Revised versions will state a new Last Updated date and will apply as permitted by law. We will give additional notice when required.
